

Free Estimates for Remodeling

Posted At : August 6, 2009 12:44 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: New Construction, New Homes

Free Estimates for Remodeling

What should I expect in a free estimate for remodeling? A good contractor should be willing to submit a preliminary free estimate for the proposed construction work. The recent Pa contractor license requires all contractors in Pa to provide a detailed contract to the customer for all paid home improvements. Free estimates now take a bit longer than normal.

Brookline Builders will provide one hour of free consultation at your proposed job location and a free preliminary scope of work for the proposed remodeling project, however it is just that, preliminary. Often changes will need to be made to this free estimate or scope of work. Depending on how much time is required Brookline may charge for additional plans, meetings or changes to the scope of work.

Once this preliminary scope of work has been refined, and changes have been made and communicated, it will be changed to a final scope of work and made part of the remodeling contract. The key to a successful remodeling experience is all in the communications between builder and customer, so the more time spent in the planning stages of the project, the better the final result